LPC new members guide

Introduction

Congratulations on your appointment, you are now a member of the committee that is recognised by NHS England as being the body that represents all community pharmacy contractors within your Local Pharmaceutical Committee (LPC) area. It is important that the LPC is seen as a leadership body: the focal point for community pharmacy, and an authoritative organisation leading discussion on community pharmacy related issues and negotiating local NHS services. As an LPC member, you have an important role in the development of local community pharmacy, representing and acting in the best interests of all your contractors.

This induction pack for new LPC members is provided by PSNC to help you to become an effective LPC member, and it aims to:

- help you to understand the functions and duties of your LPC
- explain your role as an LPC member
- inform you of PSNC support and contact details
- answer some of your questions

LPC overview

The LPC is the local organisation for NHS community pharmacy funded by and representing all the community pharmacy contractors within its area – an area that is defined by Local Authority Health and Wellbeing Board(s). The LPC is an independent and representative committee with statutory rights. PSNC has a document on the powers of the LPC which can be found in the LPC Members Area of the PSNC website in the LPC Resources Centre (psnc.org.uk/lpcs).

What is the legal status of an LPC?

The LPC is recognised and specifically referred to in NHS legislation - however it is not created by statute and is therefore not a statutory body. LPCs are not limited companies - they are unincorporated associations. LPCs are recognised by the National Commissioning Board (the terminology in legislation), which is now usually known as NHS England.

The LPC is established and draws its authority from:

NHS Act 2006 s167 (1)

The National Commissioning Board may recognise a committee formed for an area, which it is satisfied is representative of –

... the persons providing pharmaceutical services from premises in the area for which the Committee is formed, or

[... an LPS Chemist who has notified the Board that he wishes to be represented by the committee and has not notified the Board that he wishes to cease being represented]

This recognition gives certain rights and responsibilities:

NHS Act 2006 s167 (6)

Regulations may require the Board, in the exercise of functions relating to pharmaceutical services or local pharmaceutical services, to consult committees recognised by it under this section on such occasions and to such extent as may be prescribed.

NHS Act 2006 s167 (9)

The Board may, on the request of any committee recognised under this section, allot to that committee such sums for defraying the committee's administrative expenses as may be determined by the Board.

Model LPC Constitution

As a recognised representative organisation, each LPC must have a constitution. The current PSNC model LPC constitution for England is set out at Appendix 1 and can be accessed via the LPC Members Area \(in the Resources Centre\). Wales has a separate arrangement and constitution.

The LPC constitution is the source of the LPC's powers. LPCs can only act in accordance with the powers provided in the constitution. LPCs must properly discharge the duties and responsibilities required by the constitution. LPCs must not exceed the powers in their constitution and should always check that any action taken by the LPC is within the powers the constitution provides.

It is important that all LPC members are familiar with their constitution which defines:

- membership of the committee
- duties including governance
- NHS Commissioning Board recognition
- procedures for nominations and elections
- procedures for the appointment of officers and their duties
- the quorum for meetings
- the term of office of members
- procedures for the disqualification and retirement of members
- procedures for dealing with vacancies
- duties of officers
- management of the committee
- suspension/removal of members for breach of governance
- the information to be sent to NHS England and PSNC regarding membership
- the requirement for an annual report and AGM
- the procedure for amending the constitution
- LPC finance.

The majority of LPCs adopt in full the model LPC constitution recommended by PSNC. A small number of LPCs have slightly different constitutions to the model. If you have a question for PSNC staff on your LPC constitution and you are a member of one of those LPCs who have not adopted the model constitution, it is important that you tell us otherwise your question will be addressed in terms of the model constitution. If you are unsure, ask your LPC Secretary.

Accountability of LPCs and LPC members

As an LPC member you must be aware of the constitutional duties of the committee and accept the responsibility to discharge those duties which are in section 3 in the attached constitution. As an LPC member you are accountable to the contractors whose levies are collected by the LPC to fund its work. So you have a responsibility to ensure that the money is used properly and effectively, that the LPC has a business plan, and that it ensures that LPC staff are properly managed and working to that plan. The LPC has a role in promoting community pharmacy through building relationships with commissioners, other representative committees e.g. Local Medical Committees, and other stakeholders such as MPs, councillors and patient or community groups.

LPC performance management

So that LPC members can make sure the LPC is in good shape, PSNC provides the LPC Self Evaluation Tool which identifies the key areas of work that contractors can expect from an LPC. As an LPC member charged with making sure the LPC is delivering best value for contractors, check the current status of the self-evaluation document and make sure it is reviewed regularly – if you are not happy with progress, make sure the committee addresses the issues. The self-evaluation tool can be found in the LPC Members Area of the PSNC website (in the Resources Centre) and is a useful checklist of what the LPC should and could be achieving. The completed LPC Self Evaluation Tool may also be uploaded to the LPC website so that contractors can see it.

LPC meetings

LPCs should meet at agreed regular intervals, (usually monthly or bimonthly) to ensure that they are able to keep abreast of issues, monitor the LPC work plan and are able to exercise their functions properly. Some LPCs hold their meetings on a weekday evening, but many LPCs have full daytime meetings.

Between meetings the Chairman and Secretary/Chief Officer will deal with issues that arise, but your LPC as a whole is accountable for actions taken in the name of the LPC. This means that the LPC must ensure it meets sufficiently frequently to be able to set policy, consider important issues, and steer the work of the Secretary.

As an LPC member you should attend all meetings, as you are jointly accountable for the actions of the committee. To ensure that maximum attendance is possible the Secretary should arrange and notify members of meetings well in advance.

Before each LPC meeting all members should read the agenda and minutes of the previous meeting and be prepared to contribute, so that the meeting can be carried out efficiently. It is the quality of the input that is the critical factor!

The LPC must hold an Annual General Meeting to which all contractors are invited. This is an important opportunity for contractors to hear about and comment on the activities of the LPC.

What is your role?

Your role as an individual member of the LPC is to work with your colleagues on the committee to ensure that the voice of community pharmacy is heard within your LPC area. You must ensure that the business of the LPC is conducted appropriately by its members and officers and that the duties of the LPC are carried out satisfactorily.

The work of the LPC must be seen to be conducted openly, with good communication with all contractors in the LPC area. Remember that you are recognised by NHS England as the body representative of contractors and you must ensure that you represent their interests properly and keep them fully informed.

Communication with your contractors is an important part of the work of LPCs and again the LPC members need to ensure that there are effective arrangements in place. So ask yourself some questions: are you happy with the information the LPC provides to contractors? Does the LPC have an informative and well maintained website? As an LPC member are you satisfied that the website presents the LPC to visitors as a professional and business like organisation? Does the LPC issue a regular newsletter? Does the LPC keep contractors informed of discussions with local commissioners, matters discussed at the LPC meetings and national issues?

In terms of probity, the LPC should be vigilant in all its financial dealings. NHS England has a legitimate interest in the financial management of LPC levies, and LPCs must be satisfied that all their expenditure is defensible as being in the interest of contractors. LPC members should scrutinise the accounts and ensure they are properly maintained and audited.

The LPC will also promote local pharmacy and endeavour to negotiate locally funded enhanced and other services. PSNC provides information, guidance, and training to support LPCs in this role; see below for more details on PSNC support that is available for LPC members.

Competencies for LPC Membership

LPC members should have a good understanding, not only of community pharmacy, but also of the health needs of the local community and local and national NHS priorities, and they should be committed to promoting the role of pharmacies in delivering services. PSNC provides frequent briefings and resources for LPCs and LPC secretaries.

Other competencies that are useful include financial skills, familiarity with wider government health policy, local government experience, and membership of special interest groups relevant to pharmacy and education; but the key requirements are an enthusiasm for pharmacy, a willingness to contribute and being a team player.

LPC governance

It is important to remember that the LPC is a body charged with representing community pharmacy contractors in its area. LPC business has a significant effect on those it represents in terms of contractors' businesses and development opportunities. Essentially, good governance is all about making sure that appropriate rules and procedures are in place at the LPC to ensure that it is conducting itself in a proper manner. There are a number of principles, sometimes referred to as the Nolan principles, which define how people in public life should conduct themselves. The following principles reflect the application of the Nolan principles to the conduct of LPC members:

- Selflessness: LPC members should take decisions solely in terms of the interests of all those contractors they represent and not to gain financial or material benefits for themselves, their family or their friends.
- Integrity: Members must not put themselves under any obligations that might influence their performance on the LPC or their ability to reflect the interests of the contractors who elected or appointed them.
- Objectivity: In making decisions and in carrying out the business of the LPC, members should act within the constitution and make decisions only on merit.
- Accountability: LPC members are accountable for their decisions and actions to the contractors they serve and the public and must therefore submit themselves to scrutiny.
- Openness: Members should be as open as possible about all the decisions and actions they take. They should give reasons for their decisions, and restrict information only where the wider public interest clearly demands this. However, in being open, LPCs must take care when dealing with confidential or sensitive information.
- Honesty: Members have a clear duty to declare any private interests relating to their LPC duties, and to take steps to resolve any conflicts arising. A written declaration of interests, properly updated for all LPC members, should be in place and conflicts of interest at meetings should be declared and be recorded in the minutes.
- Leadership: Members should promote and support good governance by leadership and example.

These are amended versions of principles that apply to any individual in a public office - breach of the principles can have serious implications for both the individual and for the organisation. Of course as the LPC is a body of pharmacy contractors, each member has an interest as a contractor, and that general self-interest is understood.

Some other governance issues to consider

If the LPC is going to be open and transparent to its contractors, then consideration should be given to:

- allowing access to Agendas and Minutes of LPC meetings (subject to dealing with confidential issues);
- giving notice to contractors likely to be affected by any issues to be discussed at a meeting; and
- when appropriate consulting contractors before a decision is taken.

Corporate responsibility means publicly standing by the decisions of the LPC. If a matter is discussed at an LPC meeting and an individual puts forward a view that is not supported by the majority in a vote after a full discussion, that individual must support the collective decision of the LPC. Any member who publicly disagrees with an LPC decision or undermines it should consider his or her position.

Where power is delegated to individual members of the Committee to carry out a particular function, then the LPC should clearly set the boundaries of the delegated power. Individuals should be aware that they only receive their power from the LPC and cannot go beyond it.

LPCs represent all contractors within their area and there should be no bias or public statements that indicate anything other than complete equity. This means that statements indicating a dislike of a particular group of contractors or favouritism towards others must be ruled out completely. Failure to do so could result in action against the LPC by the aggrieved individual.

There may be occasions when you have an interest in a matter being discussed by the LPC - a conflict of interest - for example a contract with which you are involved. It is important that you declare your interest at the start of the meeting and the Chairman will take the appropriate action - this may mean that you are asked to leave the room while the item is discussed. It will also be important for the Secretary to minute that you declared an interest and the action that was taken.

Clearly LPCs will, on occasions, receive privileged information and such information should not be used to an individual LPC member's advantage. LPCs are under a duty to respect confidential information and despite the requirement for transparency and openness, they must deal with confidential information in an appropriate manner.

Corporate governance is an important area; local NHS bodies in particular have very stringent corporate governance requirements – reflecting the above principles – and there is always someone at Primary Care Organisations (PCOs) and commissioning organisations who is responsible for governance. It would be worth making contact with those people to look at how their corporate governance is structured. With such pressure on PCOs to have sound corporate governance, they can be expected to ensure that those with whom they do business – such as LPCs – also have good governance procedures in place.

As a new member your LPC may ask you to read the PSNC Governance Guide and sign a declaration of interest - this is good practice and all part of a healthy, well run LPC.

LPCs and PSNC

PSNC's Role

PSNC represents community pharmacies at national level. It negotiates funding and services to be provided under the national community pharmacy contract, as well as funding for specific elements such as pre-registration training grants, specific fees and allowances, and all aspects of the Drug Tariff. PSNC scrutinises closely all proposed regulations affecting NHS community pharmacy services and works with the Department of Health to ensure that they are acceptable for contractors. For a full description of PSNC's function see the PSNC Constitution which can be found, along with further information about PSNC's membership and work plans, in the PSNC's Work section of the PSNC website (psnc.org.uk/psncs-work).

PSNC Regional Representatives

There are 13 regional representatives for England who are elected to sit on PSNC and who must be members of LPCs when they stand for election. This ensures that the views of LPCs are reflected at PSNC meetings. PSNC regional representatives also hold regional meetings for their LPCs and attend LPC meetings in their regions. You can find more information about regional representatives, including contact details for your local representative, in the PSNC's Work section of the PSNC website (psnc.org.uk/psncs-work).

The relationship of LPCs to PSNC

LPCs and PSNC work very closely. PSNC is supported financially by contractors, that funding being collected by LPCs with the LPC levy.

The PSNC provides a wide range of services, support and training for LPCs to help them in their work at local level. These include:

- guidance, briefings and other resources;
- training courses,
- maintaining a database of local initiatives;
- advising LPCs on constitutional and other matters;

More details are available via your LPC Secretary and we describe the PSNC support available to LPCs in more detail later in this document.

PSNC monitors the reimbursement and remuneration processes applied by the pricing authorities including routine and special checks on pricing, and it responds to Drug Tariff and related enquiries. PSNC also produces a range of communications for LPCs and contractors including a monthly publication, Community Pharmacy News, and the website at psnc.org.uk. A Yahoo group restricted to LPC Secretaries is also hosted by PSNC.

The relationship between LPCs and PSNC is cemented through the Annual LPC Conference and the stipulation that Regional Representatives on PSNC must be elected members or officers of an LPC.

Contacting PSNC

PSNC has a small, dedicated team based at PSNC's central London office. The team are able to provide information and support to all LPC members on a wide range of NHS community pharmacy matters including regulations, local service commissioning, the community pharmacy contractual framework, communications and the Drug Tariff. The contact details of PSNC staff can be found on the PSNC website in the PSNC's Work area (psnc.org.uk/psncs-work/about-psnc/psnc-staff).

Your first port of call is:

Mike King

PSNC Head of LPC and Contractor Support

PSNC database of LPC members

In order for PSNC to contact LPC members and ensure that they receive the latest mailings and emails, PSNC have set up a database of contact details for all LPCs. When there are changes to members' contact details or changes to LPC officers please use the form on the PSNC website (psnc.org.uk/lpcs/lpc-members-area/lpc-member-changes/) so that we can get all the relevant information we need.

PSNC support for LPC members

LPOSS

In response to the changing demands and increasing challenges LPCs are facing in the reformed NHS environment, PSNC worked with LPCs to ensure that the support we offer meets their needs and last year we launched the Local Pharmacy Organisation Support Services \(LPOSS\) prospectus (psnc.org.uk/lpcs/lposs/).

LPOSS brought together the full range of existing PSNC resources with updated services and a range of new support options for LPCs. The directory is integrated with the new PSNC website making it easier for LPCs to navigate and access the full range of PSNC support services.

To make LPOSS as accessible as possible, we have split the services we offer into 6 key areas:

- Core services
- Local Commissioning Support
- Business Services
- Specialist Advice
- Training
- PSNC Events

Within each service area in the directory, LPCs will find details of the PSNC support available to them along with links to the relevant PSNC resources and external websites. The resources range from downloadable template documents, briefings and presentations to practical training days and contacts for providers of other professional services. They include a wide variety of practical tools and resources to help LPCs to carry out their functions, to understand the changing commissioning environment and to successfully represent their contractors, as well as specialist information and advice on all matters related to NHS community pharmacy services.

The prospectus is a continually evolving source of information as our resources, training events and services are developed and more support is added, making it a hub for LPC support.

LPOSS can be accessed on line and downloaded from the LPC area of the PSNC website.

We strongly recommend that all new LPC members familiarise themselves with LPOSS to ensure that their LPCs are making most of all of the PSNC support available to them. It is also worth checking the prospectus regularly as it will be updated as we launch new services and resources for LPCs.

LPC training and events

PSNC organises events two national meeting for LPCs an annual meeting of LPC Chairs and Chief Officers and the annual LPC Conference.

We frequently run one-day induction events for new LPCs members as part of a programme of training courses and seminars each year for LPCs. In previous years PSNC these have covered a huge range of topics including negotiation skills, presentation skills, preparing bids for funding, media training, chairing and meeting skills, strategic planning, leadership, IT skills, performance management and appraisal for LPC chairs, team building, business planning to name but a few.

Details of the latest PSNC Conferences, LPC courses and seminars can be found on the LPC Events page of the LPC members section of the PSNC website (psnc.org.uk/lpcs/lpc-members-area/lpc-events). This section also includes guidance notes, summaries, briefings and resource packs from some of the events.

PSNC Website

Updated daily, the PSNC website (psnc.org.uk) is the place for the latest authoritative NHS community pharmacy news, information and resources. The website was redesigned last year and contains a wealth of information, resources and guidance for both LPCs and contractors. All LPC members are allocated a 'user name' and 'password' to access additional resources in the LPC Members Area of the site. If you have not yet received your user name and password, please contact info@psnc.org.uk.

Community Pharmacy News (CPN)

Community Pharmacy News is PSNC's monthly on-line newsletter focused on issues of importance to NHS community pharmacy contractors which can be read digitally on the Resources page of the PSNC website (psnc.org.uk/psncs-work/resources).

PSNC Briefings

As part of the support services it offers, PSNC often sends out briefings to LPCs and pharmacy contractors. These briefings range from presentations to help LPCs and pharmacies to understand key areas of PSNC's work or to engage with local commissioners, to updates and guidance on the new NHS environment and regulations. The PSNC Briefings page of the website (psnc.org.uk/briefings) lists all recent briefings by both date and topic to help LPCs and contractors to find the information they need.

LPC and PSNC News

In addition to PSNC Briefings, PSNC produces a weekly email newsletter which contains updates from our website, giving subscribers details and links to the most relevant news articles added to our site in that week. The newsletter covers a range of topics relating to NHS community pharmacy such as changes to contractual requirements, Drug Tariff updates and funding arrangements, as well as updates on the wider healthcare landscape. Special newsletters are also sent out when PSNC has particularly urgent news for contractors. LPC members and others can subscribe to these newsletters at psnc.org.uk/email.

There is also an LPC News email sent to all LPC members and officers with news on LPC specific issues. This is the key communication for LPCs from PSNC and it includes news and updates that will be of interest to LPCs as well as information about the latest PSNC resources, training and support. There is no need to subscribe to these LPC newsletters as they are sent automatically to all LPC members listed on PSNC's database.

Local Services Database

PSNC's Community Pharmacy Services Database has been redesigned and will be available live on PSNC's website very soon (at psnc.org.uk/services-commissioning/services-database). The database provides details of local services and is updated regularly to allow LPC members and pharmacy contractors across the country access to information on leading edge projects and examples of good practice.

LPC members can submit information on local initiatives by using the online form or by contacting Barbara Parsons, PSNC Head of Pharmacy Practice (barbara.parsons@psnc.org.uk).

LPC finance

As an LPC member you should have a general knowledge of your LPC's finances and annual accounts, even though they will be the prime responsibility of the LPC Treasurer.

The PSNC guideline for the LPC's finances is that 50% of the next year's expenditure should be in reserves at 31st March each year. If the level of reserves is too high then the LPC should consider adjusting the amount of levy collected until the reserves are back to normal. If the level of reserves is too low then the LPC needs to consider the following measures:-

- (a) review the levy income
  - (b) review the LPC expenditure
  - (c) if necessary, consider a levy increase
- (a) review the levy income

The LPC Treasurer should check the receipts from the NHS BSA, in particular whether the number of contractors from whom a levy has been deducted equals the number of contractors in the LPC area.

If the LPC is one of the small number still collecting voluntary levies then the LPC Secretary or Treasurer needs to chase up any missing mandate forms which must be signed and processed before the levy can be collected. This can involve considerable extra work keeping up with changes in ownership and dealing with non-payers.

It is important that LPCs ensure that the required levy is collected from all their contractors and this does require constant vigilance especially on the part of the Treasurer and Secretary.

(b) review the LPC expenditure

When the Treasurer presents his budget for the next financial year all LPC members have a duty to satisfy themselves that the proposed expenditure is necessarily incurred for the benefit of the LPC's contractors. These same criteria should be used to judge the actual expenditure incurred as contained within the LPC's accounts when they are regularly presented to the LPC.

(c) levy increase

If having reviewed the level of reserves, levy income, and LPC expenditure funding is insufficient then the LPC will have to consider an increase in their levy on contractors. This will require a full discussion at an LPC meeting and due notice of the decision to contractors and the PPA.

LPC accounts

The LPC's constitution requires it to prepare annual accounts to 31st March each year. These should be approved by the LPC after they have been audited by a finance professional with a practising certificate.

The audited accounts should be circulated to contractors and to PSNC by 31st October each year and should be formally approved at the LPC's Annual General Meeting.

A point on governance: to avoid conflict of interest, the posts of Secretary and Treasurer should be held by different people.

Other financial matters

(i) Corporation Tax

An LPC is only liable to corporation tax on its interest income. However, an LPC is still required to file a corporation tax return unless it is granted a written exemption by HM Revenue & Customs.

(ii) Allowances to LPC Members

LPCs can reimburse bona fide locum costs incurred by LPC members when attending day meetings on LPC business.

In addition LPC members may claim reasonable travelling and subsistence costs incurred in attending meetings on behalf of the LPC.

Some LPCs also pay a small attendance allowance for attending LPC meetings. Where this is paid the LPC should inform the LPC member in writing that the member is responsible for any tax liability arising on the profit element within the allowance.

(iii) LPC Secretaries Salaries or Honoraria

The LPC is responsible for deduction of Income Tax and National Insurance contributions on the salary / honoraria paid to the LPC Secretary / Chief Officer or other officials, unless the LPC receives written confirmation from HM Revenue & Customs that the person is self-employed.

2. Name of Committee

The Committee shall be known as the “..... Local Pharmaceutical Committee”.

3. Duties

3.1. Governance and Finance

3.1.1. The Committee shall conduct its affairs in accordance with accepted principles of good governance, in particular preparing and publishing an annual budget, and complying with the principles set out in ‘Guidance on LPC Governance’ published by PSNC.

3.1.2. The Committee shall ensure that the appropriate structures and resources are in place to discharge its duties efficiently and effectively and the Committee may set up subcommittees of the Committee for this purpose. The structures and resources may be part of pooled arrangements with one or more other Committees.

3.1.3. In considering whether the structures and resources mentioned in paragraph 3.1.2 are appropriate, the Committee shall consider whether this may be achieved by collaboration with other Committees as mentioned in 3.4.3.

3.1.4. The Committee shall maintain appropriate management and administrative structures to ensure the Committee’s business is carried out efficiently and effectively. The management and administrative structures may be part of pooled arrangements with one or more other Committees.

3.1.5. The Committee shall respond to any request for an inquiry by a contractor who believes that the Committee or an officer of the Committee has acted unconstitutionally, by holding a meeting of the Committee to deal with the matter and to report to all contractors represented by the Committee.

3.1.6. The Committee shall request the NHSCB to allot to the Committee such sums as are required to defray the Committee’s administrative expenses and for any sums so allotted to be taken from the monies available for the remuneration of pharmacy contractors.

3.2. Representation of pharmacy contractors

3.2.1. The Committee shall receive, and where appropriate respond to, consultations by the NHSCB and HWB on behalf of the pharmacy contractors in the area for which the Committee is formed.

3.2.2. If there is no member of the Committee working in or on behalf of a pharmacy contractor in the area of any of the HWBs listed in paragraph 4, the Committee shall ensure that there are adequate arrangements to ensure the

3.3.2. The Committee shall use its best endeavours to advise any pharmacy contractor who needs help or assistance on NHS matters. The LPC is not however, able to provide legal advice as this must be given by a qualified solicitor or by counsel. In cases where legal advice may be needed on matters relating generally to the LPC's contractors, rather than relating to an individual contractor, the LPC may at its discretion, assist with funding such legal advice.

3.3.3. The Committee shall provide appropriate levels of guidance and support to pharmacy contractors or groups of pharmacy contractors in the formulation of bids for funds held at any level and advise on submissions for LPS and local commissioning.
